

King Cited At Banquet For Blind

Congressman Cecil R. King received the annual Newell Perry Award of the National Federation of the Blind at the banquet ceremonies of the organization held in Los Angeles Sunday.

The legislator was cited for being a friend of the blind, defender of the public interest, wise statesman of welfare, and true servant of the people.

Dr. Jacobus tenBroek, blind educator and chairman of the States Welfare Board, in presenting the national award to Congressman King at the convention of the California Council of the Blind, praised his "leadership and dedicated service, not only to the blind, but the general welfare."

Congressman King has been the author of many legislative bills in behalf of the blind, including the $85 earned-income exemption; increased federal share in aid payments; authorization for use of all income under an individual rehabilitation plan; and the expanded implementation of the concepts of self-support and self-care, tenBroek said.

North High Parents on Class Visit

Parents of North High School students visited classes of their children in a "Focus on Family and School" program at the school last evening.

Assistant Principal Eugene H. McCusker handed each parent a copy of his child's schedule and arranged for them to visit the classroom for a 10-minute discussion period.

Principal Richard D. Guengerich gave the welcoming address at a general assembly. Student body president, Richard Parker, led the flag salute, and the school's 63-piece band entertained under the direction of Robert Jones.

College Pair At Workshop

Two Torrance residents were among the 70 students from 20 colleges and universities who participated in the Red Cross college workshop held over the weekend at Antelope Valley Inn, Lancaster.

Harry Larsen, 1446 E. 215th Place, was one of the three Los Angeles Harbor College delegates to the conference.

El Camino College's representatives included Rosina Martin, 4042 W. 182nd St.

Workshop participants were familiarized with the resources of Red Cross as a community agency, and acquainted with the needs in their communities and provided an opportunity to solve community problems through volunteer work.

This was the fourth such annual conference conducted under the auspices of the Office of Educational Relations of the Los Angeles Chapter, American Red Cross, as a part of its year around program of activities in schools and colleges.
